

Making name cards

Create your own personalised wedding name cards using kraft paper, a heart stencil, and jute. A stylish and handmade detail for a heartfelt wedding day where everything feels just right.

Place a sheet of kraft paper on your work surface and position the heart stencil on top. Use a blending tool to apply ink over the stencil.

Cut out a piece of the inked paper measuring 7 x 7.5 cm.

Take an ivory-coloured sheet of paper and stamp a heart-shaped frame on it using the same ink.

Cut out the frame to a size of 6 x 6.5 cm.

Write a name on the card using a brush pen.

Take a piece of jute ribbon, 5 cm wide, and cut about 25 cm off.

Apply a bit of Tacky Glue to one end and stick both ends together to form a ring. Press firmly and let it dry.

Attach both cards to the jute ring using a small wooden clothespin. For an extra festive touch, you can add a small sprig of greenery to the clothespin.
