

Spooky Halloween Rosettes

These rosette figures are great for decorating your home for Halloween. They are easy to make with some paper, glue and scissors (but it works nice and fast with a handy scoring board). You can use different colours of paper to make all sorts of creatures, such as a ghost, a monster or a black cat. When you are done, hang them up on the wall or make them into a spooky garland!

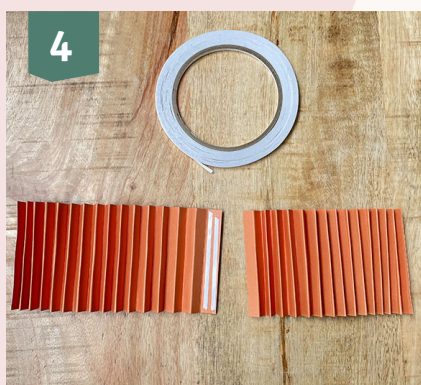

1
Take a variety of different colours of paper and cut strips of 30 x 7,5 cm. You need two strips per rosette of this size. If you would like to make a larger rosette, take 3 strips of 30 x 7 cm, the rest of the steps are the same.

2
Take a strip of paper and score all the odd numbers (there is no score line at 15 cm, but by sliding the paper it can still be scored).

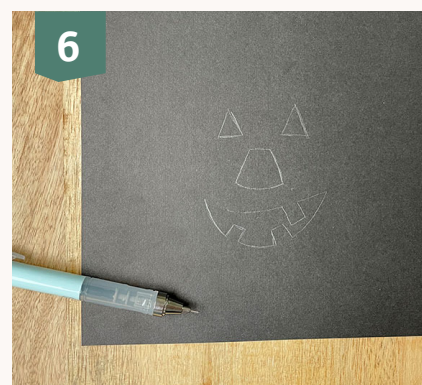

3
Turn the paper over and score all even numbers to form a zigzag pattern.

4
Fold the paper along the scored lines to create a zigzag paper. Stick the ends together with double-sided tape until a circle is created.

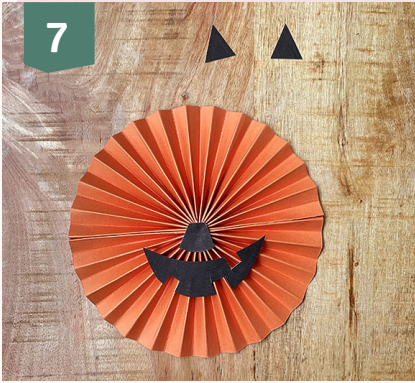

5
Glue a piece of paper on the back (this can be in the shape of a circle) to form a rosette and to keep the paper in its shape.

6
On a different colour of paper, draw the shapes for a 'face' and cut them out.

Glue the face onto the rosette to make it complete. Let your creativity run free and make the most amazing figures! Tip: To hang up the rosettes, simply punch a small hole at the top or use a clothes peg, for example.
