

Christmas DIY: Gift card sleeve

Add a personal touch to your Christmas gift with this fun DIY! Get into Christmas crafting and make your own unique gift wrapping for a gift card. With paper, ribbon and decorations, giving becomes even more festive.

1
Cut a piece of paper measuring 8.6 x 3.7 inch (22 x 9.4 cm) for the sleeve.

2
Score the long side at 4.3 inch (11 cm) and the short side at 0.4 and 3.3 inch (1 cm and 8.4 cm).

3
Cut away two adhesive strips on one side.

4
Fold the paper in half and secure the strips with glue.

5
For decorating the sleeve, cut two pieces of paper measuring 4.3 x 2.9 inch (11 x 7.4 cm). Glue these to both sides of the sleeve.

6
Use a heavy-duty punch to cut a half-circle from the open end of the sleeve, punching through both layers of paper.

7

Cut a piece of paper measuring 4.3 x 2.7 inch (11 x 7 cm) to attach the gift card to and insert it into the sleeve later.

8

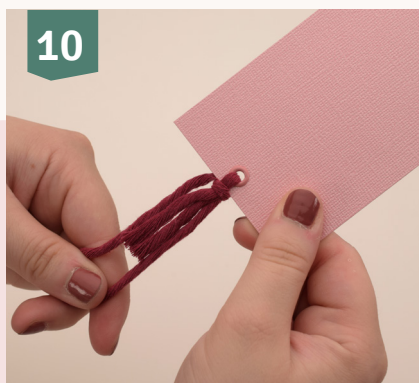

Use an eyelet tool to attach an eyelet to one short side of the paper.

9

To make the tassel, cut 4 inches (10 cm) of macramé cord and thread it through the eyelet.

10

Tie another piece of cord around the 'tassel' and pull it tight.

11

To finish the tassel, tie a piece of satin ribbon below the macramé knot and glue it securely at the back.

12

Stamp, punch, and glue decorations onto the sleeve.

13

Attach glue dots to the back of the gift card, secure it to the paper with the tassel, slide it into your handmade sleeve, and you're done!
