Orientation Program for the newly inducted Second Year Engineering (S.E.) students. The event commenced at 3:00 p.m. in Fr. Mondini Hall, with Mr. Aditya Sabnis (Event Head) and Ms. Seona Lobo (Sponsorship Head) serving as the hosts. They welcomed the students and formally commenced the program by introducing the ACM Student Chapter, followed by a prayer service led by Fr. Nelson Carvalho, which set a graceful and meaningful tone for the program.

Following this, the faculty of the Computer Department was introduced, and Dr. Sudhakar Mande the Principal addressed the students. He highlighted the achievements of the department and emphasized the continuous support extended to student-led initiatives like ACM.

Following the Principal's address, Ms. Priti Andhale introduced the newly appointed ACM Core Team for the academic year 2026–27. The appointment of the new Core Team marked an important transition and formally welcomed the students taking up leadership responsibilities within the chapter. The newly appointed members were presented with their official appointment letters.

Later, Ms. Suhani Rumadhe, Vice-Chairperson of ACM-DBIT, addressed the students and highlighted the benefits of becoming an ACM member. She explained the opportunities provided through ACM, including access to global technical resources, learning opportunities, professional networks, and membership benefits.

One of the major highlights of the orientation was the ACM Golden Ticket Hunt, which encouraged students to actively participate, collaborate, and interact with one another. The event also featured several quick and engaging spot-prize activities, including “Bring It On,” “Fast and Furious,” “Edge Control,” and “What the Tech.” These activities added an element of excitement while encouraging students to participate beyond the formal sessions.

The event concluded around 5:00 p.m., with students showing visible enthusiasm and curiosity toward ACM and its offerings. The orientation successfully set the stage for active participation and innovation in the upcoming year.
